

Clan Alpine Herd Information

10/26/06

BLM is doing an emergency removal of 100 horses from Clan Alpine HA due to 6200 acre fire damage - out of a 298,649 acre HA

This states the AML for this herd area is 979, that the current population is 541. They're also using PZP in this herd, so the quote about them repopulating that 100 quickly is false. And as Nylene stated, the Clan Alpine has mountain lions. Clan Alpine has a healthy population of mountain lions, resulting in low annual population increase to the horses, and many areas are populated primarily with older horses.

AML: 612 - 979 animals

Clan Alpine has a healthy population of mountain lions, resulting in low annual population increase to the horses, and many areas are populated primarily with older horses. The horses are solid colored, bay, or gray in color, and they test genetically to be related to the Quarter Horse, Morgan, and Saddlebred.

On November 25, 2006, 56 wild horses from Clan Alpine were shown for internet adoption in the Palomino Valley Holding Facility.
